

Lilac Class News

2nd February 2018

This week the children have enjoyed sharing their experiences of being in a church, as part of school life or with their families, and discovering the many different things that take place there.

The story of Laika, the little dog who went into orbit in 1957 in a Russian spacecraft, has captured our imaginations this week. The children wrote some really wonderful stories about her, imagining their own ending to her story.

In maths we have explored multiplying and how it links with dividing by grouping. We also reviewed how to make tally charts and pictograms based on our favourite planets.

Next week we are off to Jodrell Bank. The children have learned a little bit about the history of the telescope. We are very much on-topic this week; we were very excited about the "super blood blue moon" and Jodrell Bank has just been nominated for World Heritage Site status! We look forward to finding out all about it on Tuesday.
